
Quantum fields and measured observables require additional constructions.